Cortina d'Ampezzo. The WinteRace Cortina 2025 continues with great enthusiasm, an event dedicated to regularity racing, featuring 50 classic cars and 20 ICON vehicles from the latest global automotive production. Among them are Aston Martin—one of the event's partners—Ferrari, Maserati, Porsche, and, as a new addition for this twelfth edition, an electric Lotus.

The second stage, scheduled for tomorrow, Saturday, March 15, will determine the team that will enter the event's hall of fame. This leg of the race will take participants on a breathtaking route between Italy and Austria, passing through locations of extraordinary historical and scenic beauty.

After departing from Cortina d'Ampezzo at 9:00 AM from Corso Italia, the cars will tackle the Passo Tre Croci (1,805 meters above sea level), offering a spectacular view of the Tre Cime di Lavaredo, before reaching Lake Misurina. The crystal-clear waters and the legends surrounding the lake will provide a unique backdrop for one of the most anticipated skill trials of the event.

The route will continue through Dobbiaco and San Candido, then cross into Austria along the regional road that passes through Obertilliach, a charming Eastern Tyrolean village known for its historic wooden farmhouses. The teams will then navigate the winding roads of Carinthia, arriving in Kötschach-Mauthen, famous for its World War I museum and rich culinary traditions centered around dairy products. Here, the local community will warmly welcome the participants before they take on another exciting precision trial in the heart of the town.

The journey will then continue towards Lienz, where the cars will be showcased in an exclusive public display, followed by a lunch break at the prestigious Grand Hotel Lienz. Afterward, the teams will head to Nikolsdorf Airport, which has been reserved exclusively for WinteRace Cortina, to complete additional skill trials.
