WinteRace Cortina 2026: the prologue opens the challenge between technique and Olympic spirit

Cortina d'Ampezzo. WinteRace Cortina 2026 officially got underway last night with a prologue that combined sporting precision with a true narrative of the mountains. The 60 cars (50 historic and 10 iconic) set off from the Grand Hotel Savoia to tackle the ascent to Passo Giau: a route of approximately 17 kilometers marked by twelve average speed trials, where each crew was required to interpret time down to the hundredth of a second.

The prologue represented the first real test of the event and will shape the new Olympic-style “medal table,” with crews divided into seven teams, to be awarded during tomorrow evening’s gala at the Grand Hotel Savoia.

Today sees the first itinerary of the event, covering approximately 270 kilometers and crossing some of the most iconic Dolomite passes: Falzarego, Pordoi, Costalunga, and Gardena. The day also includes a stop in Bolzano, in Piazza Walther, where the caravan of historic and iconic cars will be presented to the public.
